

Paris Scene

by WWD Staff

Posted THURSDAY OCTOBER 01, 2009

From WWD ISSUE 10/01/2009

BACK TO THE FUTURE: Nestled on Rue Saint Jacques, a few feet from the Luxembourg Gardens and behind the Pantheon, sits the 20-room Hôtel Le Petit Paris, which invites people go back in time. That's thanks to interior designer Sybille de Margerie, who decorated Bernard Arnault's Hôtel du Cheval Blanc in Courchevel, France, a couple of years ago. For the new Paris hotel, de Margerie found inspiration in French history: Each room boasts a different atmosphere, from Louis XV to Napoléon III to Seventies Pop Art. Rates range from the equivalent of $350 to $530 a night. Hôtel Le Petit Paris, 214 Rue Saint Jacques, 75005; +33-1-53-10-29-29.